

Dominican Republic

Located on the island of Hispaniola are millions of people living in poverty. These include many precious children who do not know where their next meal will come from and who have tremendous physical and medical needs. In partnership with the Dominican Republic government, One More Child is involved with its largest project to date — the construction of a community that includes nearly 100 single-family homes, a community transformation center and a church plant. We need individuals and churches to help finish this project that will transform the lives of many special children and families!

The What
